THE WRATHER IN RICHMOND YESTERDAY was clear and pleasant. The skies were clear at midnight. State of thermometer:

The failure of the Senate to act on the silver question, the financial difficulties of Reading, the struggle for the possession of Northern Pacific, and the prospects of long litigation, and the belief that the tusiness of the western roads will suffer soverely after the closing of the Fair at Chicago all tend to depress the market for stocks. For a time the bulis made a good fight against their opponents, especially in the Industrials, which were marked up 1 to 1½ per cent. In this rise cially in the Industrials, which were marked up 1 to 1% per cent. In this rise Distilling and Cattle Feeding was most conspicuous, rising to 34. The advance was due to the reiteration of old rumors that the concern had made an amicable settlement with the American Distributing Company, which handles its products. The control of the co

Treely pressed for sale.

The heaviness of the Grangers checked the rising tendency of the Industrials, and supporting others in these specialities were withdrawn, resulting in a decline resulting in a decline resulting from the supporting of the supporting others in these specialities were withdrawn, resulting in a decline resulting from the supporting of the support of the supporting o he rising tendency of the Industrials, and supporting others in these specialities were withdrawn, resulting im a decline ate in the day of 2% in Distilling and lattle Feeding; 1% in Sugar, 2 in Cordage, 2% in General Electric, and 2 in Chicago Gas. In regard to the last named, there were rumors of a receivership walen could not be confirmed here.

Lake Share and Big Four were also notably weak among the railway stocks. The short interest must be very heavy, if the lending rates of stocks are any criterion. To-day Burlington, New York Central. Western Union, and Missouri Pacific all commanded a premium for ase. The market closed weak at or near the lowest point of the day. Lonisville and costaville displayed more strength then for a long time. The stock sold up to 35%, and closed with a small net gain. The improvement was due to a covering of the short contracts. Des Molnes and Fort Dodge, preferred, rose %. After the close of business, it was announced that nerotiations between the Speyer syndicate and the Reading receivers had been respected, and ponding furtiler developments the Reading securities advertised to be sold to-morrow will be withdrawn.
